Mas a Phenomenal Mind-He Solves the Most Difficult Problems in Mathematics Instantly.

Test of His Fowers by Bome School Masters and Emperis in Insurance; Some of the Difficult Questions Answered.

Unquestionably the greatest expert on take Erie road, now visiting his perents in this city. Lest evening at Dr. Morrow's office, on West Tuscarawas street, a number of gestlemen met to witness this young man salve all sorts of knotty probems. He answered every question almost instarily, and never occupied over half a minute in answering any question a number of difficult problems, and he was perhaps the most untoptaked man of the pathering. Another was a well known life insurance man, who has made a study of perplexing his insurance friends with all sorts of gage and brain racking problems in mathematics. The trial lasted over an hour, and in that time but few mistakes were made in solving every problem instaptly. We give below a few of the problems submitted.

Name the number of seconds in 37% days. The answer was instantly, 3,240,000.
Another question: A hollow ball 18 inches in diameter, and one inch thick, contains another ball three inches in diameter, how many quarts of water will it take to fill the vacant space. It took less than a minute to answer: 4 quarts and 7 pints.

Another question: A certain number consists of three digits in geometrical progression. The sum of the digits is all, and if 702 be added to the number the digits will be inverted. The answer was -A Neat Piece of Work by a Canton Agency.

The Ohio Union, Detective agency yes terday colved a problem which has been bothering Adam Riggle, a wealthy farmer who resides near New Cumber land, Tuscarawas county. Ever since February, 1888, he has had his harness cut and other depredations were committed. On Nov. 4, 1889, at 8 o'clock in the morning his large bank barn was set on fire, and with its contents burned to the ground. Detectives were employed to ferret out the criminal, with futile results. Four weeks ago the case was place ed in the hands of the agency at Canton and the mystery was admirably selved. Yestorday Adam Riggle and his son

Thomas were summoned here and at the agency the son made a clean breast of the affair. He admitted to doing all the depredations and so doing all the deprenations and secting fire to the barn. Why he did it he would not say. He is about 30 years of age, and he has been in a manner accusing his brather Joseph of the crime. It is supposted he did this to get the good graces of his father in order to be kindly remembered in his will. The work was cleverly dame and reflects samely credit on the agency. credit on the agency.

A CASE OF INTEREST

Heard in The Court of Common Pleas.

an Evening Besston Which Bring Out a Case of a Hushand and Two Wives, One Divorced and the Other Recently May-

A woman wronged, suddenly makes her appearance in Common Pleas court.

Her husband, as is alleged, fraudulently gets a divorce from her.

He marries smother and now is confronted with obstacles that will mar his future happiness.

At 7 o'clock last evening Common Pleas court was in session, with Judge Poace on the bench in room No. 1. Only a few were present. A motion was to be heard which in a considerable interest not only to the logal profession but to the parties directly interested. A review of the case is not out of order.

During the May term of court, 1885, sames Kohen, by his attorneys, Mong & McCarty and John C. Given, applied for a divorce from its wife, Margarot Rohen, on the ground of willful absence. He is an employee of Eibel & Co., and is a brass molder. She resided at New Haven, Conn. Two children were the fruits of their union, both of whom died. They had acquired a little home which is valued at from $1,800 to $2,300. She being absent from Stark county, due publication of the petition for divorce was made, and a copy of the same sent to ber, but is seems that it never reached her, as it was returned to the clork of courts. In May 4889 Judge Pease greated the divorce, which was apparently decreed on just and sufficient evidence. In the meantime James Rohen paid considerable attention to one Dora Wilson, and the affection ripened into matrimeny. The day for the welding was set, and on July 4th, a marriage license was procured. On this day, by her attorney, P. J. Collins, Margaret Rohen served a notice on her divorced husband that she would ask for a resepening of the case, shalming that the decree was obtained by fraud. The notice was not beetded, and on July 7th, 1889, James Rohen and Dora Wilson were made man and wife at Lomeville, by Rev. J. J. Lebertman.

East evening was the time set for the bestman.

East evening was the time set for the

and wife at Lonisville, by Rev. J. J. Lobertann.

Last evening was the time set for the respening the mase to be heard. A number of affidavite had been placed on file, and the atterneys for Roben moved that they be stricken from the Rie. This was argued at length and overraised by the court. While this was going on Mrs. Margaret Roben, who was supposed to be way off in New England, was escorted to a chair in the court room by Deputy Sheriff Weilandt, when a little burn of excitement manifested itself among the few present. The husband of the woman timed pale and treabled perceptible. The attoriusys asked for several weeks to answer the affidavite and the testimony produced, when the court states that there had been an imposition, and that the decree had been obtained by a flagrant fraud. The case will be further heard on next Monday morning at 9 o'clock.

No case exactly like this has ever been placed on a court record, and it involves some knoty problems of law. If the decree is found to have been obtained by fraud and set aside, it will make a husband with two wives. The testimony shows that some "ways that are dark and tricks that are vain," have been indulged in and the outcome is leoked forward to with much interest.

A LABOR PAPER

Speaks Savagely of Another Labor Paper and Its Canton Correspondent. The Jennal of the Knights of Labo anys some vigorous things against T. T. O'Malley-of Canton and the paper he represents, the Labor Tribune as follows: The Labor Tribune has a good deal-to say regarding the action of the general assembly in refusing admission as a delegate to T. T. O'Malley. It does not seem to have thempt it measures of as a delegate to T. T. (Phinliey. It does not seem to have thought it meessaary or desirable sty inform itself in any degree as to the facts of the case. A knowledge of the facts would have prevented the Tribune from saying much of what it does say, or would did it care to make its statements harmonize with the treths. That O'Malley was unseated because of his friendship for trade union or trade, union tree tagingly private that is, if by such O'Mailey was unseased because of his friendship for trade union or trade union is simply untrue; that is, if by such friendship we are to understand what has usually been understood. The Knights of Laber lave given notice, however, that they are determined to distinguish between treasonable conspiracy against our order and institute friendship for another organization. It would be synamical and unjust for the United States to cashier one of its military afficers because of his friendship for some other country and regard for its government and laws. It would beweakt, cowardly and trouvonable to refuse to cashier an officer who was caught advising United States troops to desert and take service under a foreign flag. The Tribune's friendship for O'Mailey, whom it calls its "General Agent" will be regarded as a touching example of Christian charity by those who reasonber O'Mailey's indignant protostation that he had no connection whavever with that paper. There's been prevariesting somewhere.

The Secret of a Number of Theits Eiselosed.

Two Michaels in Hoo, One Confesses and Makes a Clean Breast of Their Depredations-- A Mouse Searched With Good Heaults.

Por some time past there have been a number of petty thefts committed in this city. A few days ago three overcoats were stalen from the Union Hotel, A arpet sweeper was missed at J. H. Werner & Co's establishment. Two shawls and a pair of mittens were stolen from a buggy belonging to O. Brisbin on Eighth street. Marshal Gentry took the matter in hand and with Officer McCort succeeded in putting the thieves behind the bars. Last night it was reported that an over oat was found in Joseph Weaver & Son's umber yard. It answered the description of the one stolen from the Union Hotel. The officers suspected that Michael Kelly and Michael Burns alies "Fatty," knew something about it. They were both arrested, the former being taken to the city prison and the latter to the coun ty jait. Kelly this morning broke down and nade a confession, which was wrought from him by the officers. Officer Bederman and Marshal Gentry searched Daniel Consolley's place at No. 181 East Ninth street and were rewarded with finding the two missing shawls and the carpet sweep-or. Later in the day Kelly told where the er. An Ironeiad Ordinance Passed by the City Council, Empowering the City Engineer to Let Work For All Sidewalks Not Construct ed Immediately After Order by the Council.

An ordinance of great interest gener ally is that passed by the city council at its last meeting. It is entitled, An Ordi-nance Regulating—the Repair and Construction of Sidowalks in the City of Can-

Up to this time the city has had much trouble in having sidewalks laid on streets where they were badly needed. The law provided that where property holders refused to make improvements, the city should have the work done, assessing the cost on the tax duplicate against the property. This worked well as long as there was money in the fund. When there was not, the improvement was not carried

The ordinance just passed will obviate this. It provides that where a sidewalk should be constructed or repaired, a resoution to that effect shall be passed by the ouncil. The mayor shall then notify the owner or the agent of such action. If the althowalks are not constructed within thirty days or the repairs made within ten days of the receipt of the written service, the council shall authorize the civil engithe council shall authorize the civil engineer to confirm with some person or persons in the name of the city for the improvement, stipulating the price thereof. The expense incurred shall be assessed, and become a lien upon the abutting property, and the assessment shall be assigned to those making the improvement, and shall be full payment, and shall be collected with interest and ten per cent. penalty as in other cases of improvement.

The ordinance was introduced by the efforts of Mr. Field. Section second is an amendment by Mr. Fries, and stipulates the width of sidewalks. On all streets eighty feet wide or over, the sidewalks shall be one fourth the width. On streets less than eighty and not under twenty-five feet the width of the sidewalks shall be one fifth the width. On streets less than twenty-five and not less than eighteen feet, the sidewalk width shall be one sixth. On streets less than eighteen feet, the sidewalk width shall be one sixth. On streets less than eighteen feet, and the except ty permission of the council, and then it must be constructed of fice brick set on edges.

THE CANTON MINISTERS

Hold a Meeting to Arrange For the Janustry Revival Services.

The ministers of all the different Protestant churches of this city held a meeting in the Y. M. C. A. rooms on Monday afternoon to take action in regard to the religions meetings to be held in the Taber nacle during the month of January, under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association of this city. These meetings will be conducted by Rev. Yatman, a revivalist who operated a very successful series of meetings in Youngstown last winter. The ministers of the city will take part in them and use their influence to make them a grand success. They will be held in the Presbyterian church each afternoon and in the Tabernacle in even-ing. A collection will be taken at each evening service for the purpose of defray-ing expenses, while on the last three nights a fund will be raised to pay Rev. Yatman's expenses while he is in the city. On next Monday morning at 11 o'clock the ministers will have another meeting to determine whether they will loin in a them a grand success. They wil to determine whether they will join in a union service on the Sunday following the opening night, which will be on New Year's eve.

It will be remembered that during the reunion of the Sherman Brigade last sumner pickpockets did their work on the street cars. Harry Ellwood, a stranger, with an accomplice, was arrested for the crime. He was indicted and had his trial yesterday. He was ably defended by C. C. Upham, and the case went to the jury at 5:20 Tuesday evening. After being out about two bours a verdict of guilty was rendered. It did not specify the sum that had been stol-en, and Judge Pease sent the jury back to their room. They were out about ten minutes and specified the amount, $4.15. OUR GREAT CENTENNIAL.

Commemorating the Inauguration of our First President—Chief Justice Fuller Orates for Two Hours—A_Great Oc-

Washington, D. C. Dec. 11 .- [Special.] The ceremonies of Congress in comnemoration of the centennial of the inauguration of George Washington were held to-day in the hall of the House of Representatives. The address of the oc enaion was delivered by Chief Justice Fuller and occupied nearly two hours in de-livery. It is highly ornate throughout. The distinguished speaker began by a reference to the great celebration in New York City in April last, than which, he said, nothing could be more full of encouragement and hope. The century has not impaired the charm which enshouds the life history of George Washington. He then touched upon the chief bistoric wents, immediately preceding and following the inauguration of Washington, discussing them with reference to their bearing upon the welfare of the nation which was thus being set in the march of Empire. He said the availability of Washington at the crisis in which he ex-changed his sword for the greater duties of Chief Magistrate, was one of those Providential blessings that have so often been bestowed on this Nation. A great was delivered with fine elecutionary effect. Both the floors of the House and all the galleries were crowded with repressentative Americans and representatives of all the foreign powers present in Wash-
